

THE CENTRAL RECORD.

LANCASTER, KY., THURSDAY AFTERNOON, APRIL 29, 1920.

HANDING IT TO THE COURIER.
(Editorial.)

The Stanford Interior Journal in its Tuesday's issue takes a whack at the editor of the Courier Journal. After charging Judge Bingham with the defeat of the Democratic ticket in Louisville last year the statement follows: — "Anyhow, there is a suspicion among the loyal Democrats that there is too much of a Gordian knot binding the millionaire owner of the C. J. and the millionaire owner of the Republican party in Kentucky together. Tom Rhea got in bad with Judge Bingham's papers just now when he told the simple truth about A. T. Hurt, the Indiana immigrant who has taken over the Republican party of Kentucky by means of his barrel."

The uncalled for attack at the time by Judge Bingham's papers upon a Democratic Senator is bringing forth resentment all over the state from democrats. His salutes at Senator Stanley don't hurt bad because the people generally believe that had the Senator offered him the seat in the U. S. Senate made vacant by the death of the lamented Senator James he would have at this time had a very different view of the Junior Senator. Be that as it may, the Democrats of Kentucky are not yet in the humor to take orders from Mr. Bingham, for it is still in the memory of the faithful democrats of the state that the Editor of the C. J. was once a candidate upon the Republican ticket in Louisville for Judge of the Court of Appeals and was defeated and when Democratic leaders look so hideous to him, all of us think he may be viewing them through his old republican specks. Cox of Ohio will get the instructed vote at the conventions Saturday and all the vituperation of the Courier Journal and Times will have been for naught.

Directors Meeting.

A meeting of the directors of the Garrard Tobacco Warehouse Company is called for Friday April 30th, and a full attendance of all directors is earnestly urged.

Good Cow Sale.

The cow sale conducted by Pruner and Goines, of Knoxville, was one of the best held in the county in years. About twenty-five head were sold that brought an average of $140. a head.

Small Place Sells.

The 10 1/2 acre tract belonging to Arthur Robinson and located on Sleets Branch, was sold by Master Commissioner in front of the court house door last Monday and brought $1101.00. Mr. Thomas Bourne was the purchaser.

Stockholders Meeting.

Every stockholder who has subscribed for stock in the Masonic Building Association, are requested to meet in the lodge rooms of the order this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

This is a very important meeting and all stockholders are urged to be present.

Serious Charge.

Hiram Wiley, indicted by the recent grand jury for carnally knowing a woman under 16 years of age, was fainted in the local jail last week, having been arrested in Indiana. Sheriff Walker soon had him apprehended and went for him with the above result.

Will Probated.

The last will and testament of Mrs. Eliza A. Todd, was probated before Judge Stapp last Monday. It was dated February 27th, 1919, and in it she asks that after all just debts are paid that her personal and real property be sold and money divided between her children and the legal heirs of deceased children.

Mr. J. L. Gay of Berea, is made executor and gives him the right to convey title to all her real estate.

SCHOOL ELECTION

Saturday, May 1st.

TO THE VOTERS OF THE LANCASTER GRADED SCHOOL DISTRICT:

The friends and supporters of W. S. Carrier, candidate for trustee in the Lancaster Graded School District, to elected Henry V. Bastin wish to call attention of the public that this election will be held next Saturday between the hours of one and five o'clock, and that both men and women over twenty-one years old who reside in this district have the right to vote in this election. We further call attention to the fact that Mr. Carrier is pledged to an economical administration of the affairs of the school and is opposed to the further raising of taxes in the district unless it should become absolutely necessary for the proper conduct of the school.

And is opposed to extending the school boundary to a five mile limit as has been proposed and talked of, and is in favor of giving to the public information by publication of the manner and for what purposes the moneys of the district are being expended. Mr. Carrier also believes, in rotation in office, and favors the election of a new trustee every year.

We consider that an important election since the recent agitation to extend the school district out five miles from the city and increase the taxes to pay the necessary expense to maintain the school under the conditions that such an extension would bring about. The men and women of the district who are legal voters are urged to come out next Saturday afternoon and vote for Mr. Carrier.

County Convention

Next Saturday.

If you are affiliated with the Democratic party or intend to espouse its cause, you should by all means attend the democratic county convention here next Saturday. The mass convention will be held at the Court house and will be called to order by the county chairman at two o'clock. Garrard county is entitled to thirteen delegates, who will be chosen to attend the State convention which will be held in Louisville, next Tuesday, May 4th.

Every democrat in the county should be on hand and take a part in this convention Saturday.

Special Service

At Baptist Church

Sunday is the annual GO TO SUNDAY SCHOOL DAY, and a special service has been arranged for the day. It is expected that every member of our S. S. and church will be present for this service, which will begin promptly at 10 o'clock.

The program consists of special songs and talks, reading of the Church Covenant, and a roll-call of members. The church building is being especially decorated for the service, and we assure all of our members that this is going to be one of the most interesting, most helpful, and most important services we have ever had. We are expecting all of you. —C. D. Strother.

Miss Hays Now

Postmaster.

Miss Emma Hays, whose appointment as postmaster for Stanford was told of in these columns some weeks ago, received her commission Thursday and this morning she took charge of the office. Postmaster George L. Penny having transferred the business to her at a late hour last night, The Interior Journal, while congratulating Miss Hays on entering upon her important work, regrets to see Mr. Penny go out. He has made a most accommodating official and has placed this paper and its editor under lasting obligations to him. There will likely be several changes in the personnel of the office force, but about that this paper will tell later. —Interior Journal.

Model Subdivision

O. T. Wallace and Company of Lexington, are advertising in this issue the sale of about 40 lots that will be offered the hungry public on May 19th. The lots will be in a subdivision of the Dickerson property on Hill Court, where there lies about ten acres admirably located and ideally situated for some choice building lots. Lots of this character are in much demand in Lancaster and we predict that the bidding will be spirited. Col. W. H. Mathews of Greensboro, N. C., will be on the block that day. Music and souvenirs will also flow freely on that day. Prepare to attend.

OVER THE TOP

Goes The Salvation Army Drive.

The Salvation Army Home Service Campaign in Garrard County for funds to carry on its work in this country proved to be a success as the generous people of the town and country responded liberally to the appeal of this great organization.

The features of the day included a concert in the Park by the Lancaster band, which was enjoyed by the great crowd; a short and stirring address by Judge Lewis Walker and the efforts of the following workers for the fund and it can be said that they are all prize winners—

Mrs. W. H. Burton,
Miss Shelby Mason,
Mrs. Lewis Landrum,
Miss Katie Barnes Dickerson,
Miss Minnie Mae Robinson.

Although over the top the following workers in the Bryantsville and Paint Lick districts intend to add much to the fund Saturday, May 1st. Miss Zillah Dawes, Mrs. J. C. Williams, Mrs. Richard Brown, Mrs. R. I. Burton.

Mrs. Rice Woods, Mrs. Dave Hervey, Mrs. Harry Francis and Miss Fannie Bowden.

WE ARE READY

And Anxious to Co-operate.

The city of Lancaster sent a committee to Danville last week to see if it could elicit any information on the question of the L. and N. Railroad coming into Danville. The Committee was composed of Messrs. Farra, Joseph, Marksbury and Bastin, all live ones. They want the road to continue over to Lancaster and Danville people all want this physical connection between the two places. Lancaster stands ready to do her part in every worthy movement and people of this character are the ones we want as our neighbors. Let both town and counties go in together and get this double track route.—Danville Advocate.

See Mounts' ad for buggies and harness.

School Census.

Taking of the Lancaster Graded and High School census has just been completed and shows 401 pupils within the district in the school age. This is an increase of about 25 since last year's census was taken.

A Happy Birthday.

The celebration of the seventy-second birthday last Sunday of Mrs. G. R. Atkinson, at her home, was one of the happiest events of the season in that neighborhood.

This dear lady is the mother of seventeen children, eleven of whom are living and all married. Only three out of the eleven were absent, those being, Mrs. Mitch Lane of Bryantsville, and her two sons living in Missouri. Mrs. Atkinson is the grandmother of 54 children, twenty of them being present last Sunday.

Those who were present and enjoyed so thoroughly the delightful occasion were: Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Prickett, Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Long, Mr. and Mrs. Grover Huffman, Mr. and Mrs. David Prewitt, Mr. and Mrs. Thompson Brundt, Mrs. Rice Logan, Mrs. Vernon Jones, Mrs. J. H. Posey, Mrs. Howard Logan, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Huffman, Mrs. M. C. Jones, Mr. Taylor Lane, Misses Grave and Lillie V. Lane and Master Arbie Ray.

A delightful dinner was served the welcome guests and all left wishing for the mother many more such happy birthdays.

WARNING.

We want to warn our friends of the approaching danger of a coal shortage. Should we have a summer strike, which those who ought to know, think we will— together with the shortage of cars, we would go into next winter bare of coal. We urge you to buy at once your winter coal and not wait until July or August as you have been doing, for we believe you will be unable to get it at that time, and if you do, it is our opinion will be higher.

This may not appeal to you coming from a dealer, but when fall and winter comes and you can not get coal don't blame us for not having warned you. We believe what we have stated to be true and in stronger terms than we have stated it.

Very truly,
Garrard Milling Co.

COL. FRANK L. RIPPY

Greeted By Many Here
Last Monday.

Denies It Is A "Wet-Dry Fight."

Col. Frank L. Rippy, of Lawrenceburg, Ky., candidate for the democratic nomination for Congress in this Eighth District, was in Lancaster last Monday and was warmly greeted by his many admirers in this county and many who were here from adjoining counties. Col. Rippy has a warm handshake for everyone, which is quite an asset, while mingling with the constituents of the district, this happy faculty alone drawing many to him personally.

Denies Wet-Dry Fight.

Not until he reached Lancaster, had he read the article in the Lexington Leader, which article claims that the fight for the democratic nomination is a wet-dry fight and that Col. Rippy is to take the wet end of it.

When shown the article by a representative of the Record, Col. Rippy denied most emphatically that it is to be such an issue and at the same time denied most vigorously, that he has ever made the statement, "that he is for amendment or repeal of the Volstead prohibition law, so as to permit the manufacture and sale of light wines and beer." "The liquor question" said Col. Rippy, "has been settled by Federal Amendment and is not an issue in this race and if brought into it will be without my consent or approval."

Ex-Service Men

Attention.

Next Thursday night the 6th of May will be the next regular meeting night of the American Legion to be held at the Police Court Room in Lancaster, Ky., promptly at 7:30 P. M.

This will be a very important meeting and all Ex-Service men are asked to come, if you are not a member you can join this very night.

The American Legion is one of the strongest organizations ever formed and is gaining strength right along. Show your friends that you are 100 per cent American, by being a legionnaire.

Remember this that no SLACKER, DRAFT EVADER, or man who has received a DISHONORABLE DISCHARGE is eligible to this organization.

If you Mr. Service Man was in the service of your Country while your FRIENDS stayed at home show them what you are and what you stand for by being a member of the American Legion.

Remember the Legion of this Post meets Thursday night, May 6th, 1920 at 7:30 P. M. promptly, at the Police Court Room in Lancaster.

LEGIONAIRES bring an ex-Service man with you.

Respectfully yours,

Buick Company

Consolidates.

We regret to announce that Mr. L. R. Conn has decided to move back to Danville, having bought an interest in the Danville Buick Company, which he recently sold, and later moved with his family to this city. The Danville Messenger in toiling of the consolidation, says:

"Of course Mr. Conn will continue to sell the Buick car. With Messrs. L. F. Steele and Roy Anderson, who have already established a reputation for square dealings, he will incorporate. Mr. Conn will have charge of the garage and service department, Mr. Steele will be sales manager and Mr. Anderson will be office manager. They will devote much of their efforts to the Buick car and will enlarge the service department by increasing the supply of parts and repairs. Their territory will be Boyle, Lincoln and Garrard counties. They will also sell the Franklin car and Reo trucks. The business will continue as the Danville Buick Company, and with such men at the helm as L. R. Conn, L. F. Steele and Roy Anderson their business should grow as the proverbial green bay tree. Really, their success is already assured."

New Firm.

In this issue will be found the advertisement of Aldridge and Marsee, composed of Roger Aldridge and Will Marsee, who have just formed a partnership and will do business at the Central Garage. These are both popular boys and are handling some popular cars, which they will be pleased to show you at any time. Give them a call.

In the good old days a man did a day's work and received a day's pay, and went home and enjoyed himself until work time the next day. But not so today. A fellow does half a day's work, collects one or two days pay, and spends the rest of his time wondering how he can make more and do less.

BABY DAY

At Christian Church
Sunday School Next Sunday.

Special exercises will mark Go-To-Sunday School Day at the Christian Sunday School next Sunday. That day will be Baby Day—the time when the mothers and fathers of all the babies on the Cradle Roll are asked to bring the babies to Sunday School.

In celebration of the baby guests special songs, etc by the pupils of the Beginners' and Primary Departments will be given under the efficient leadership of Mrs. L. G. Davidson, the Primary Superintendent. Little children singing songs about a real baby in a real cradle will make a beautiful scene. All Cradle Roll parents are urged to bring their babies without fail. A hearty welcome will also be extended to all others who may come. Visitors will find classes for all and competent teachers. Come next Sunday. Help that much in a good thing even if you do not come any more. But it would be far better to come then and then keep on coming. Here's hoping you will do the latter.

NOTICE

To the Citizens of Lancaster, Ky.

Honorable Mayor, City Council and People of Lancaster, Ky.:

Whereas, the franchise now held by us is void by reason of being in conflict with the State Constitution, and

Whereas, we have no franchise for operating our plant in the City of Lancaster, Ky., because the same is void as aforesaid, the City Council of the City of Lancaster, Ky., and the public generally are hereby notified that we will on August 1st, 1920, or as soon thereafter as practical, move all our poles and electrical equipment from the streets of the city of Lancaster, Ky.

This notice is given as a legal notice, as we understand that reasonable notice must be given before we can remove said property and discontinue said plant.

We are willing to do anything we can to co-operate with the city in securing a franchise for the purpose of furnishing electric light and power to the citizens of the city, but we can not continue it further without expensive additional equipment, and this we can not do at the present rates, and without a legal franchise protecting us in our rights.

Done this April 26th, 1920.

Respectfully submitted,

BASTIN BROTHERS.

By H. V. Bastin.

Gilbert Opens

Campaign.

Next Monday, Judge Ralph Gilbert, will open his campaign in Harrodsburg, for the Democratic nomination for Congress from this district. He asks that both of his opponents be on hand and a division of time will be granted them.

Serious Situation.

The paper situation is in such a condition at present, it has the newspaper publishers up in the air, and it begins to look as if some of us will be out of business, if the conditions are not relieved soon. The Record sent in an order for two tons of news print last week, to one of the largest houses in the country and their reply was anything but encouraging, saying they had not one bit of news in stock and no prospects of any before July 1st. It is no longer a question of price but it is a question of getting the paper. We may be forced soon to cut down our paper to an eight page one and ask the indulgence of our patrons and advertisers, until we can get relief. The current price now is 15 cents a pound, while only a few years ago it was bought for two cents a pound.

The American government and private bankers have extended credits to European countries amounting to about eighteen billion dollars. And congress says it doesn't know how it is going to raise the money to pay a small bonus to our former service men.

In the good old days a man did a day's work and received a day's pay, and went home and enjoyed himself until work time the next day. But not so today. A fellow does half a day's work, collects one or two days pay, and spends the rest of his time wondering how he can make more and do less.

Similar conditions prevail very largely among all other religious bodies. That is why these other religious peoples have put on their great forward movements and have reached their financial goals so enthusiastically. It is believed that like success will come to the Disciples and especially that Garrard County will do her part and do it joyfully.

A good organization has been effected in this county. James A. Be

Watch The Reds.

The influence which the disloyal elements of our population will have in the Republican National Convention at Chicago is a fact that should not escape notice from patriotic citizens. A few weeks ago in the primaries in the state of Wisconsin there was a sharp contest within the Republican Party between the LaFollette and the anti-LaFollette factions of that party. Both sides had a full list of delegates as candidates and the result was an overwhelming victory for the LaFollette supporters. This means that the entire state delegation of Wisconsin to the Republican National Convention will be under the control of Senator LaFollette and will be held as a pawn in his hands for such use as he may see fit to make of it. Last week in the primaries in Illinois while Governor Lowden carried the state overwhelmingly, Mayor Thompson won out in the fight for control of the fifteen delegates from the city of Chicago and those delegates will be voted by him at the Republican National Convention. The control of approximately fifty delegates by LaFollette, the pro-German slacker of the United States Senate, and Mayor Thompson, the chief executive of the "sixth German city in the world," is a matter whose importance is not to be underestimated. Fifty delegates may turn the tide for some candidate at Chicago and it may easily develop that the nominee of that Convention may owe his nomination to these two near traitors.

WHAT IS DONE WITH THE MONEY?—QUERY

Salvation Army Shows How More Than $14,000,000 Is Spent Annually in the United States.

"What is done with the money?" That is one of the first questions put to workers in the Salvation Army's second Home Service Campaign which will reach its culmination during the period May 10-20 when the drive will be fully on.

It is a legitimate question and one which the officers of this great organization are eager to answer because it shows the splendid work done.

According to the official financial audit just made public at the national headquarters in New York City, there had been spent to January 31, 1920, more than $13,000,000, with a remainder on hand for the four months to May 31 of over $100,000.

Nearly a million and a half dollars were spent to maintain the 1,000 corps of the Army in all parts of the United States. This was for rental of halls, etc., work for children and young people, cost of local relief and incidental expenses, stationery, etc., and officers' salaries. This last was not so large an item as might be expected as not a single officer in the Salvation Army has a salary sufficiently large to call for the payment of an income tax.

Another million and a half was spent by 31 provincial and divisional headquarters for fresh air farms and camps, special relief work, etc. Nearly $200,000 was used for maintaining 25 rescue homes and maternity hospitals, a general hospital and one for children, three children's homes and 11 sum settlements and nurseries and $400,000 for the pension fund for aged or disabled officers.

The Salvation Army believes in paying its debts as quickly as possible. During the year mortgages to the amount of nearly $2,000,000 were paid off.

To show how fast the work of the Salvation Army is developing, it is only necessary to point to the fact that over $7,000,000 was spent on new buildings during the year.

AMERICAN LEGION HEAD GIVES BOOST

Sayn Soldiers Were Strong For the Salvation Army in France During the War and Since.

No organization that saw service with the American soldiers in the great world war is dearer to the hearts of the men than the Salvation Army, according to Franklin D'Oliver, National Commander of the American Legion. In a recent statement regarding the Salvation Army's second Home Service Fund campaign, May 10-20, Commander D'Oliver said:

"The American people owe a great debt of gratitude to the Salvation Army, and just how great this debt is they have only to ask their sons, brothers and husbands who faced death in the trenches on the battlefields of France. Every man who wore the American uniform is fully aware of the manner in which the soldiers of the Salvation Army suffered all sorts of privations, faced the danger of battle and entirely forgot themselves in order to care for the soldier-fighting for the cause of liberty and humanity."

"There is not an ex-service man who is not glad to do whatever he can to help the Salvation Army, and I feel safe in saying that the people of this country will be satisfied to take the word of those who fought in France that the Salvation Army is an organization that deserves the support of the American people."

"The service of the Salvation Army during the war is but an example of the noble work these men and women have been doing for years among those who needed their services, and today they are carrying on a great work among suffering humanity throughout the world, just as they have in years gone by and just as they will in years to come."

"The campaign that the Army is to put on at an early date is one that I am sure everyone will lend support to. You may rest assured that whenever you find an ex-service man you find a friend of the Salvation Army. There were several organizations that did great work with the troops, but none of them excelled the Salvation Army, and none of them occupy a warmer place in the hearts of the American ex-service men than the Salvation Army."

Each of the last five Presidents of the United States has seen fit publicly to invite the attention of the nation to the Salvation Army and its work for "the betterment of humanity and the making of bad citizens into good ones," as President Wilson put it. President Roosevelt praised the Army for "working effectively in those dark regions where, save for its force, only evil is powerful." President Taft asserted that its "practical methods of charity are of the highest usefulness."

The accounts of the Salvation Army are audited regularly and at frequent intervals. Every cent expended goes for the needy. The army furnished 3,000,000 meals free to penniless persons in the United States last year. Feeding the hungry is only one of its many activities.

GOV. MORROW TO COMMANDER BOOTH

Kentucky Executive Strongly Endorses Work of the Salvation Army in This State.

Governor Edwin P. Morrow of Kentucky recently sent to Commander Evangeline Booth of the Salvation Army a strong letter in support of the Army's second Home Service campaign during the period, May 10-20. Governor Morrow is the general chairman of the campaign in Kentucky with former Chief Justice Henry S. Barker of Louisville an active chairman. Governor Morrow's letter follows:

"My Dear Commander:—Wherever the Salvation Army 'carries on,' there we find a need supplied; a foot-sore, unfortunate comforted; a hungry one fed; an aching heart given succor of sorrow.

"I am appealing directly to the great heart of Kentucky to respond generously to the call of the Salvation Army in this second Home Service Campaign, urging our people to rally to the support of an institution that always has done and now stands ready to do its full share, brimful and running over, for the homeless and the afflicted.

"With my best wishes for your continued success in your great work, "Believe me to be, sincerely your friend,

"EDWIN P. MORROW, Governor."

KENTUCKIANS SEE HOW MONEY IS SPENT

This State is in the "O. K." Province of the Salvation Army With Four Other States.

Kentucky is in what is termed the "O. K." province of the Salvation Army's national organization. This province includes Western Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee. Provincial headquarters are maintained at Pittsburgh and Col. William Evans is in charge.

By the end of May, 1920, the "O. K." province will have spent more than $1 million and a half dollars. More than $100,000 was set aside to take up mortgages and more than a half million was required for new buildings, etc., demanded by the increased work of the province.

Support of corps activities in the province calls for nearly $3,000,000. Nearly a half million is required for provincial and divisional activities, a considerable part of which is devoted to fresh air camps and relief work. About $50,000 was taken for the national pension fund for officers grown old in the service and the special work for women totalled nearly $10,000.

NOTED CATHOLIC FOR SALVATION ARMY

Cardinal Gibbons Gives His Blessings to National Leaders in Their Work.

One of the most prominent prelates in the Catholic church in America is Cardinal Gibbons of Baltimore. The Cardinal is a strong believer in and supporter of the Salvation Army. Cardinal Gibbons has just sent the following letter to Franklin K. Lane, Secretary of the Interior, who is the national chairman of the Army's second Home Service Fund campaign drive, May 10-20:

"My Dear Mr. Lane:—Let me congratulate you on taking up the good work of helping that most deserving organization, the Salvation Army, in its 1920 appeal for maintenance.

"Its splendid self-sacrificing work not only during the world war, but for years prior thereto, has endeared the Salvation Army to everyone.

"May your work and that of your friends and associates in this national appeal meet with the fullest measure of success.

"My blessings and best wishes, faithfully yours,

(Signed) "J. CARD. GIBBONS,
Archbishop of Baltimore."

The Salvation Army has given out its recipe for doughnuts. This is the formula from which all the critters for the men of the A. E. F. were made. There is something magic in it, for it worked wonders. Here it is:

Five cups flour, 2 cups sugar, 5 tea-spoonfuls baking powder, 1 tea-spoonful salt, 2 eggs, $\frac{1}{4}$ cup milk, 1 table-spoonful lard.

Knead and cut and drop into boiling lard. The lasses who made these doughnuts in France say that a happy smile, added to the doughnuts at the time of serving makes them even more delightful.

The activities of the Salvation Army are being carried on in 60 countries. This far-flung organization holds meetings and conducts its work in 40 different languages. In the United States alone its enterprises embrace:

Baptist evangelistic work, hotels for the poor, industrial homes for the unemployed, slum posts and nurseries in the great cities, rescue homes and maternity hospitals, children's homes and relief work in prisons, besides other forms of relief, such as holiday dinners and the distribution of free ice and coal.

CLEAN-UP-WEEK

PROCLAMATION

By The State Board of Health.

WHEREAS, the winter's accumulation of decaying filth and refuse in alleys and streets of cities and towns, and especially in and about the back premises of almost all homes, rich and poor, in cities, towns and country districts, constitutes an annually recurring menace to the health, life and comfort of the entire population of Kentucky, which easily and inexpensively can be hauled away and spread upon gardens and farms where it is much needed if all classes of the people will lend a hand in the work now.

THEREFORE, be it known that the State Board of Health, by virtue of authority vested in it by law, hereby joins the State Federation of Women's Clubs in designating and proclaiming the period from April 26th to May 2nd as "Clean-Up-week," this to include liming and white-washing, for every home in Kentucky; and in this health and life saving-work the Board earnestly appeals for the full and active cooperation for the entire week of all city and county officials, day and Sunday school teachers and pupils—their duty to begin with the school house and grounds so as to make them models for the community—preachers and their church members, women's clubs, Red Cross chapters, newspapers, and every family, and especially asking city and town officials and heads of families to furnish teams and the heavy labor necessary in hauling off the refuse which, with this encouragement, the women and children can be relied upon to collect at accessible places; and the Board urges that the press, women's clubs, clergy and teachers give this proclamation such publicity as will make it effective, with the plea that the clean-up be repeated monthly until cold weather sets in next fall, except that it will be as to the mague in all stables where horses are kept in order to put an end to the breeding of flies.

GIVEN UNDER OUR HANDS and the Seal of the Board this 20th day of April, 1920.

A. T. McCormack, M. D., Secretary
John G. South, M. D., President.

Take a Real Ride in the Cleveland, and You'll Know What a Car It Is

The Cleveland Six, the sensation of the year among light sixes, is selling itself to thousands who use discrimination in picking out the car they want.

To attempt to describe the qualities of the Cleveland Six is no easy task. You must ride in it to know it. Take a real ride and you begin to understand that here is a better light six, very much better. It has an enclosed over-head valve motor, of exclusive Cleveland design and manufacture and tested in road work for three years before being offered the public, that gives performance unsurpassed.

A real ride will show you, better than can be told you, that the Cleveland has power and pick-up and flexibility and ease of driving that do not come with many other cars. Low-hung spring suspension and splendidly upholstered cushions wipe out the road-bumps. Beautiful body lines place the Cleveland above the usual plane in appearance. Upholstery is of genuine hand-buffed leather.

Come let us show you what a car the Cleveland is

FINANCIAL

Conditions cause Worry

GOVERNMENT MUST INCREASE TAXES TO MEET BONUS APPROPRIATIONS.

(New York Times.)

WASHINGTON. The financial condition of the country is not such as to warrant unusual expenditures, and indications are that, instead of the Government's being able to reduce the taxes this year, new taxes must be levied to take care of the expected soldiers' bonus. This is the opinion of tax experts and those charged with the raising and expenditure of the public money.

In the face of these conditions, Representative F. W. Mondell, Republican House leader, in a statement issued recently, warned the country that most rigid economy was exercised in the expenditures. He said that the country was still compelled to finance the unpaid war expenditures of more than $2,500,000, and that so far in the fiscal year the expenditures had exceeded the income from all sources by more than $200,000,000.

There must be no further bond issues, Mr. Mondell said in his statement, which reviewed Federal fiscal conditions, and warned Congress against extravagances.

In the course of his statement he said:

"Let me say in all earnestness and with all the emphasis at my command that we must not increase our floating debt, or we shall invite disaster; that we must not issue bonds if we desire to keep on a specie basis, and avoid a panic, that we must keep our total expenditures for the fiscal year that begins June 30 next well within our income. If we do not we are inviting Treasury conditions which, acting upon the financial situation in the country, will bring nation-wide disaster."

"We cannot meet further expenditures through the issue of bonds. Further bond issues could only be floated at greatly increased interest rates, at the cost of a considerable reduction in the market value of outstanding Government securities with the grave danger of wrecking the specie basis of our currency, with the certainty of increasing the price of commodities and further enhancing the cost of living. Under these conditions a further bond issue is unthinkable."

COUNTY WORK

of Disciples Begins

Organizations Formed in Most Sections of State Where Denomination Has Churches, Says Dr. Homer W. Carpenter.

"Lexington, Ky.—"The Kentucky Division Disciples' World Movement campaign which launched successfully the past week," said Dr. Homer W. Carpenter, co-director of the campaign with Dr. Joseph W. Hagin, in the Disciples' campaign headquarters here.

"County organizations have been formed in most of the counties in which there are Disciples' churches and the teams which visited these counties the past week in the main were greeted by interested members and had no difficulty in forming county organizations preparatory to the drive for funds May 9 to May 16.

"Some of the leading men and women of the church took part in this organization work. With the exception of a few cases in which unexpected changes of program were made necessary, the meetings were held as announced.

"Five members of the Disciples' teams were released from the organization work for Interchurch World Movement conferences, including Dr. I. J. Spencer, Rev. Joseph D. Armentrout, Rev. E. S. Smith, Rev. E. W. Elliott and Mrs. Ida Withers Harrison. These leaders with others of our church, will also take part in Interchurch World Movement conferences this week. Dr. Spencer being the leader of one of the I. W. M. teams."

Dr. Carpenter goes each Saturday afternoon to Richmond to preach in his home church and Dr. Hagin leaves on Friday for Covington to preach in his church, the Madison Avenue Christian, returning to Lexington Monday to resume campaign work.

EDUCATING THE PUBLIC.

Certain members of congress have been stirring up a mess in Washington over what they term a waste of public funds in the publication of bulletins by the various departments and bureaus.

Not having seen any of the said bulletins, we are unable to pass judgment upon their value as educational mediums. And we presume the education of the public is the primary object of their publication.

But if the government or congress is desirous of disseminating useful information relative to agriculture, health, science, or other subjects, there is one way, and one only, of reaching the people who pay the bill.

That way is to use the columns of the public press and pay the publishers a fair price for the space consumed.

Practically every citizen of normal intelligence reads the newspapers. This is a newspaper age and the people are lost without them.

Government information disseminated in this manner would reach the great mass of the people, those for whom it is compiled at great expense, and would be put to practical purpose in the extension of knowledge and the greater development of the country.

To educate the public you must first reach the public, and there is no arm so long or voice so loud as that of the press.

SOBER JUDGMENT

SHOULD PREVAIL

In our endeavors to restore normal conditions in this land of chaos sane and sober judgment should prevail.

We have agitators in our midst whose sole apparent aim is to destroy our established system of government.

We have others who are consumed with unrest, are out of harmony with prevailing methods, and yet are true and loyal at heart.

We must learn to differentiate between the two.

The one must be curbed or destroyed, while the other should be conserved and nurtured back to a healthy state of mind.

There is much to perplex and exasperate us all, but nothing to cause a palsy of alarm.

It has taken years of work and wisdom to create the greatest nation of earth. It will not be wrecked in a day.

Energy, perseverance and sober judgment will in time restore conditions to some more satisfactory basis, but only time and patience can bring about this result.

THE MOTHER OF MAN.

On the second Sunday in May the nation will observe Mothers' Day.

Every one knows Mothers' Day—why it is, when it is, and for what it stands.

It comes us close to our hearts as Christmas or the Fourth of July, for it is the day upon which we honor the mother of man.

The arms of motherhood form the cradle of the human race. They are the rock upon which we rest our hopes of the future, the guiding star which leads humanity through the perils of infancy and into the safe harbor of maturity.

Pages upon pages could be written of the glories of our mothers, but not all of the words of the English language could do them justice.

It is beyond the power of our humble pen.

All honor to the mother of man!

May her days and her joys upon earth be many, and may her home in the next world be one worthy of the greatest handiwork of God.

A sunny disposition is greatly to be desired, but we are in danger of losing ours when we note the size of the Sunday editions of some of the big city daily papers. In view of the alarming shortage of print paper the size of some of these Sunday editions is profligate in their wasteful extravagance. Section after section is contained in them in which there is practically no element of news, but which are principally made up of balderdash and modern bunk.

Each week it becomes increasingly difficult for the country press to secure enough blank paper to print their limited editions, and even that is sky high in price.

If the big dailies would use a little moderation the country editor would not be driven to the point of desperation in his efforts to secure paper stock.

But the way of a hog is ever the same. It thinks only of self.

News dispatches indicate that a great influx of immigration is to be expected soon from foreign countries, and especially from some of the German states.

We have plenty of room in this country for reputable and law abiding citizens from any other country, but our doors should be religiously closed to trouble makers of every description. We have too many of that breed here now for our own good.

If some means could be provided whereby the American farmer could secure the necessary farm help from over the seas it would be a blessing.

And since the average American girl has graduated from other people's kitchens, a hundred thousand strong and healthy domestics would be enthusiastically received.

Many people have been urging the farmer on to greater production this season as a means of reducing the cost of living. And there they stop.

Apparently they do not take into consideration the fact that the food speculator is in reality the one who is robbing the poor and filching the rich in order to line his own pockets. He it is who has done most to force the price of foodstuffs to almost prohibitive heights.

What we need is an old time curb bit that is big enough and cruel enough to bring the speculators to their knees and keep them there.

The farmer should not be asked to become everybody's goat.

Strong minds, indomitable courage and endless patience will be required to restore this country to the normal conditions existing before the outbreak of the European war.

Today practically all lines of business are conducted on an abnormal scale. Wages, living, everything is out of plumb, and the prevailing tendency is to force things upward. This of course can not last indefinitely with safety to the republic, but it is difficult to conceive how we are to lead the America people back to earth again without bringing a disastrous crash about our heads.

A Moses would be thrice welcome today.

Summer is coming along and we are looking forward to a long cherished vacation. Now will the gentleman who is confident that he can get out a better sheet than the editor kindly step forward and ease gracefully into the editorial chair? There's a deal of glory and no money in the job for him—if he has the sublime courage to tackle it.

The season is late and the tobacco plants are late and slow in starting, which is likely to give us a late crop. We should do everything possible to move the crop forward as much as possible by fertilizing plant beds and ground. Sow a little fertilizer over the plants after they come up, and if the ground is too loose, roll it. It will give you plants ten days sooner, and 200 pounds drilled in the row or 400 pounds all over the ground will ripen up your crop two weeks sooner with good color.

John W. Barker of Fayette county, used it last year on half of his tobacco ground. It increased his yield and he sold that part of the crop at $85. average. The other part of the crop planted and sold at same time averaged $30.00, and his crop of burley was twice as good where he used the fertilizer. W. S. Jennings, near Cynthiana, left it off of thirteen rows to test it, and he says the difference could be seen as far as you could see the field.

Don't be afraid to spend four or five dollars to make a bright crop and then come howling because you don't get a high price. Our V. C. Fertilizer is put up to make bright tobacco, the only kind that is wanted. The price is $48.50 per ton.

Try it. Most of those who have done so, continue to use it; although last year the season was so dry that they did not get full benefit of it. Mr. Henry Curtis, of the Kentucky Experiment Station, says you get the benefit from tobacco or corn fertilizer in the following crops for some years to come. Hunt Lowery, near Wilmore, says you could see the improvement in the following crops on the part of his field where he used it for four years.

J. J. Hill, the railroad man and great farm builder, showed on 150 farms that he could double the yield of his crop in one year by the use of fertilizer.

Experiments made on fertilized plots last year was 45 bushels of wheat per acre, while the yield on all unfertilized plots the same year was only 13 bushels per acre.

Our government is calling on the people to fertilize their crops and increase their yield to feed the starving world, and while inbore is so high you can't afford not to do so. And you can't afford to overcrop yourself or overcrowd your barn and make a late dark crop.

Some predict $2.50 a bushel for wheat at harvest. It will pay to sow it all over the ground and make a fine tobacco and wheat crop and get a good stand of grass following it. If you sow the wheat early, you can graze it for several months.

Parties who have spoken for it, should come and get it or have it set aside and marked for them, as the demand is so heavy the company may not be able to furnish it later.

Hudson, Hughes and Farnau.

Only four more years until we will be subjected to all of this candidates again. Surely our good forefathers wished a bunch of agony onto us when they framed the constitution.

What other phonograph dares this test?

Did you ask some one about the Edison Tone Test recital given last week at the Opera House? The startled audience heard the voices of the Criterion Quartet flood the packed house. It then heard the New Edison* match those voices, even unto their finest variation of shading and feeling.

Any one who was present will tell you:

The art of the living artist and its RE-CREATION by the New Edison can not be told apart.

It is no idle phrase that you can enjoy Case, Middleton, Hempel, Matzenauer, Spalding—in your own home. The New Edison brings all that the great artist can bring, except his physical presence. It is the phonographic triumph of the age.

The New Edison

"The Phonograph with a Soul"

Come in and hear this wonder for yourself—the Three Million Dollar Phonograph* that RE-CREATES the very soul of music.

*The Instrument used in last week's Tone-Test is the regular model which sells for $295 (in Canada $431). It is an exact duplicate of the Laboratory Model which Mr. Edison perfected after spending Three Million Dollars in experiments.

HANGING JUST FUN

For Farmer Burns.

Made A Wager That He Could Be Hanged On A Regular Scaffold And Sustain No Injury.

"Farmer" Burns, the great old time wrestling champion who discovered Frank Gotch and taught the Iowa farmer all he knew, was born to be hung, but not to die that way. Hanging did not inconvenience him at all. He tried it once on a wager and a small wager at that. They arranged a regular scaffold with a three foot drop, adjusted the hangman's noose with the knot snuggled under Burn's left ear according to custom and sprung the drop.

The wrestler's 160 pounds brought up with a jerk that made the rope hum like a fiddle string and he hung suspended by the neck for nearly three minutes. Throughout that time he carried on a conversation with the bystanders joking and kidding his "executioners." He was cut down none the worse for wear.

How did he do it? He had exercised and strengthened his neck muscles through long years of training so that they were strong enough to prevent the constriction of his windpipe even from the pull of the hang-strangle hold was not barred and Burns had trained himself so that when Strangler Lewis or any of the other strong armed grapplers secured and applied that hold the Farmer could work his head free from the dangerous grasp.

You do not have to flop to the wrestling mat to have the strangle hold applied to you nowadays. Hard luck or times or illness or disaster or old age may shut your financial wind off at any time and gradually force your shoulders closer to the padded canvas until the snap of the referee's hand on your opponents back declares you the loser of the struggle.

But you can strengthen your neck, just as Farmer Burns did. Constant and regular exercise in sawing will do it, the putting aside of a certain definite amount of the envelope each pay day. Burns used weights to exercise his neck muscles. War Savings Stamps, Treasury Savings Certificates and Liberty Bonds are the best apparatus for financial exercise. They can be adjusted to the financial strength of any neck, rich or poor. If you have exercised with them, then when you bring up with a jerk at the end of your financial rope you can hold out until the pressure is removed.

FISH MEAL,
An Economical Hog Feed.

Menhaden fish are caught in great quantities along the coasts of Chesapeake Bay, the Atlantic, the Gulf of Mexico and elsewhere. By a cooking and extracting process the oil is removed. The residue is dried and sold as fish scrap for fertilizing purposes, or ground fine and sold as fish meal for hog feeding.

The following shows the percentage of the important ingredients of fish meal:

Protein 69.5 per cent
Mineral matter 21.6 per cent
Fat 4.2 per cent
Moisture 3.3 per cent

As a feed for hogs fish meal has proven very efficient. From the above it will be seen that the percentages of protein and mineral matter in fish meal are very high, and, therefore, it is especially suited for use as a supplement to corn. It is in a class with tankage and skim milk in this respect. Results from feeding fish meal to hogs at many experiment stations and on many farms show that it is a very high-class feed. In fact, it is just as efficient, pound for pound, as tankage, probably slightly more efficient.

In view of the high quality and efficiency of fish meal as a hog feed, together with the fact that at present the price is very reasonable to the feeder, it should be of particular interest to him. It is one of the cheapest commercial sources of protein for hog feeding now available, and farmers will do well to consider it seriously before paying the extremely high prices asked for other concentrated protein feeds.

(LOUISVILLE EVENING TIMES)

"That resolution of the Democratic Administrative Committee, offered by P. H. Callahan and adopted by the body, is a striking example of the modern political spirit that will ultimately emancipate this country. The text of the Resolution was published as an advertisement in The Times of Thursday, in letters large enough for everybody to read; and its call to men not normally active in politics to participate in the county primaries and to select high-grade delegates "who cannot be controlled by any person or persons" is an evidence of the new political idea. Hitherto a committee such as that led by Mr. Callahan would be the vest-pocket possessions of some boss or faction, and the last office in the world it would perform would be to call on non professionals to control county and state conventions for reasons of independence. But this committee, seeking to express the general party interest, attacks personal exploitation, factional control, bosses and states and urges the districts and the State convention to control themselves. For an official party committee to take such a stand and to take it with the assent of all the rival leaders—is a long step forward in Kentucky."

What Do You Want Us To Do?

A paper salesman dropped in on us the other day and inquired if we would care to buy a ton or so of news print at 13 1/4 cents. The last consignment which we bought two months ago came at 10 cents a pound. The advance is 3 1/4 cents a pound in two months. It looks like the press of the State and Nation ought to be strong enough to curb this iniquitous squeeze game of the paper trust. As long as we stand with our hands in our pockets they are going to keep "adding on". At 13 1/4 cents newsprint is almost prohibitive, and at this price the white paper in one issue of the Outlook costs $75. The question is, how much longer are the country weeklies going to put up with it?—Falmouth Outlook.

History Repeats Itself.

We have often heard that history repeats itself and the following from the pen of the great Lincoln, which was uttered long, long ago, is just as applicable, or more applicable, in fact, today than it was when it was uttered: Lincoln knew. The expressions which fell from his lips long ago are living and everlasting inspiration to the spirit of America and to all mankind. Read and read again these words spoken to the Workmen's Association in 1864: "Property is the fruit of labor; property is desirable; is a positive good in the world. That some should be rich shows that others may become rich, and hence is just encouragement to industry and enterprise. Let not him who is houseless pull down the house of another, but let him work diligently and build one for himself, thus, by example, assuring that his own shall be safe from violence when built."

Kentucky Democrats, You Are Entitled to Express Your Preference

IF you have a choice for the Democratic nomination for President, you are entitled to express it, Kentucky Democrats.

But you have but one chance to do so.

You have been called to meet in mass conventions in your county seats at 2 o'clock, Saturday afternoon, May 1, for the purpose of registering your choice.

Neglect the opportunity thus offered, send your county delegates without instructions, and your one chance to exercise your sovereign right of saying who will be your standard-bearer in November has slipped away.

Exercise Your Prerogative

WILL you delegate your franchise to a few men in the crisis which confronts your party and your country or will you assert your prerogative as a citizen and a Democrat to choose your leader?

Then you may be able to register your choice intelligently these facts about the candidate Ohio Democracy has put forward, as a man whom the Genius of America has trained for just this hour, are presented.

A Typically American Career

BORN on a farm "of poor but honest parents," James M. Cox became a teacher, then newspaper reporter, then an editor, then secretary to a Congressman, then owner of a prosperous newspaper property, then a member of Congress, and then Governor of Ohio—the only Democrat ever elected to that office three times.

Always On the Square

ASK any union labor leader about Governor Cox and he will tell you that no man or group control him, that he is always on the square.

Ask the business man of Ohio and they will tell you that he understands business problems and that he has courage and ability for any emergency.

Ohio's Votes Are Needed

OHIO'S electoral votes are needed this year; Cox can swing them for Democracy.

Go to the mass convention in your county seat at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, May 1, and select as your delegates representative forward-looking Democrats who hold good government and the interest of the party paramount to all else; and instruct them to support the candidacy of Governor James M. Cox.

Women are entitled to representation and to express their preference and are urged to attend the convention.

Let the country know where Kentucky Democracy stands.

A LITTLE DIPLOMAT

BY GEORGE E. COBB

Copyright, 1920, Western Newspaper Union.

"Humph!" observed Miss Celia Bland, "the girl will find out that she is not coming to a palace or playhouse. I see a very stern and difficult task before me, but I shall not swerve one iota from the path of duty."

Miss Bland was taking on a new and weighty responsibility. It meant an invasion of the calm and even current of her well-regulated life. For some years she and a single servant had been the only occupants of the little old-fashioned home, and at the age of thirty, with one unfinished room to renovate, Miss Bland had settled down to definite spinsterhood.

Her brother Ralph had gone away from his native town over eighteen years and had married a concert singer, later a movie actress. It was only on rare occasions that he communicated with his sister. Miss Bland, with her straightforward notions of the giddy denizens of a world all frippery and indolence, never invited them to visit her. Even when they announced the birth of a little daughter, Muriel, she preserved a chiding silence. They drifted far apart. Then both her brother and his wife died within the same month, and almost at his last moment Ralph Bland wrote to his sister implored her to take Muriel into her charge.

Grudgingly Miss Bland had written to some kind friends of her brother who were caring for the penniless orphan, sent them money and for a week was busy preparing a room for her expected guest. Day after day, with grimly set lips and resolute decision, Miss Bland formulated plans in regard to the little lonely waif.

"We shall have a handful," she told old Mary, the household servant. "Just think what a spoiled, willful child Muriel must be, brought up in unreal theater life and roaming from place to place! You must co-operate with me, Mary. In checking the lack of discipline and disobedience that's bound to come to the surface. We must set the child hard, practical tasks that will count for her good."

And five minutes after the little guest entered the house all the carefully studied system of Miss Bland was sunshined to nonexistence. A scared-looking, forlorn little miss of fifteen, carrying a battered suitcase, none too well attired, Muriel stood at the threshold with big, watery eyes viewing her stern-faced aunt. Suddenly down went the suitcase, the little pleading hands were extended.

"Oh, dear aunty, please kiss me, please hug me, if only once, to show that you love me, for you are all I have in the world now!" she quavered.

"The poor yearning darling!" blushed old Mary, overcome.

"Yes, come," unbent the fainted ogress. "I will truly love you if you only let me," and she too broke down. "And I promised papa I would mind you and help you work. He said if I ever become the grand, neat housekeeper you were, I would turn out to his heart's desire. For oh! we were so tired of roving from place to place and never knowing what home

Mr. Jesse Mershon of Corbin spent a few days last week with Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Kennedy. Mr. Mershon purchased the home of Mr. J. C. Williams. We are glad to welcome Mr. Mershon in our community but we are very sorry to give up Mr. and Mrs. Williams and family who have been in the community for a number of years. Mr. Williams has been the cashier of the bank here and a good citizen."

Little Muriel, given a room to sweep, put two in order. When she did up the dishes she polished them.

Gradually Muriel brought Aunt Celia to understand that her father and mother had been rare helpful children of the world. Muriel had brought with her some of the old movie costumes. There was one dress that Muriel took the notion was particularly adapted to her Aunt Celia.

"Please try it on, won't you, to please me?" she pleaded. "You will look so nice in it."

"Perhaps I will, some time," promised Miss Bland.

One day Muriel was halted by Robert Lang, a long-time resident of the town. Muriel had learned that he was the center of the one romance in Aunt Celia's life. They had kept company for some time when a lover's quarrel made the one resentful and the other obstinate. They had avoided each other after that.

"Little girl," spoke Lang. "You are so nice and friendly to everybody. I believe you would do a kindness for me."

"Yes, sir," assented Muriel. "If it is right that I should."

"Then, listen. I am about to remove from town. I wish before I go, however, to see Miss Bland once more, if only to say good-bye. Do you think she would see me?"

"When would you call, Mr. Lang?" demandsly questioned Muriel, but with a great idea suggesting itself.

"Tomorrow night."

"Very well, I will answer your ring and let you in."

"Tomorrow night" was the evening when Muriel had induced Miss Bland to array herself in the dress her mother had worn. Muriel was complimenting her on her appearance when there came a ring at the doorbell. To the embarrassment of Miss Bland the next moment Robert Lang entered the room. Artless little Muriel, heart and friend to all humanity, closed the door upon the intruder.

Robert Lang stared in open admiration at Miss Bland. Never had she looked so lovely.

"Oh, how could I have stayed away from you so long?" he cried, and in the sincerity of his genuine adoration Miss Bland knew that the ashes of the old fire of love were not dead.

Remarkable And Convincing Story of Trutona's Restorative Powers Told By Mr. Lee.

Louisville, Ky., Apr. 29.—"I'll swear by Trutona and I never expect to be without it again. 'And why shouldn't I? After I had spent hundreds of dollars for other medicines, one bottle of Trutona did me as much good as all the rest put together. It placed my system in perfect condition and I've gained twenty-eight pounds in the bargain." In his own words, the foregoing is what Trutona, the Perfect Tonic has done for Harry Lee, an employe of the Seelbach hotel, who lives at 1661 Gallagher Street, Louisville.

"Stomach trouble together with the after-effects of an attack of pneumonia caused a general breakdown in my health," he continued. "I became constipated and suffered headaches. My appetite was very poor, it seemed I never wanted anything but a cup of coffee. I didn't sleep well at night."

"Well sir, I weighed only 130 pounds when I began using Trutona but today I tip the scales at 158—a gain of 28 pounds. I haven't had a headache for weeks and my former nervousness is a thing of the past. And my appetite—well, I eat more than my income will stand. I'm full of life now, enjoy my work and I know I'm in perfect physical condition. 'My father-in-law and my thirteen-year-old son also took Trutona and it helped them greatly. My boy's strong and healthy and gaining weight now."

DEMOCRATIC WOMEN VOTERS FORM CLUB

Eighty Seven Charter Members of Body Elect Mrs. Samuel Wilson President.

Thank Parties For Ballot.

The Woman's Democratic Club of Fayette County was organized at a rally in the Phoenix Hotel Friday afternoon with a charter membership of eighty-seven.

A keynote of the rally was an appeal by Mrs. Harrison G. Foster for party harmony and to heed the call for the county convention on May 1st, quoting a letter to all Democrats from Col. P. H. Callahan, Chairman of the State Administrative and Campaign committees.

Miss Laura Clay urged prompt organization and acquaintance of the campaign issues. "We want to be so early in formulating our opinions that our attitude will be known when the state convention is held in Louisville May 4th.

Will Communicate Report.

Communication of the report on the club's organization and its pledges of co-operation with the state organization was left to Mrs. Foster and Mrs. A. M. Harrison, both members of the State Committee.

Officers of the Club are: Mrs. M. Wilson, President; Mrs. Arch Hamilton, Vice-President; representing the county; Mrs. George R. Hurt, Vice-President, representing the city; Mrs. Will D. Oldham, Secretary and Miss Nancy Lewis Green, Treasurer; Mrs. Powell Hosworth was elected Chairman of the membership committee.

A committee on resolutions, composed of Miss Laetitia McCauley and Miss Catherine Christian proposed the following platform, which was adopted unanimously:

Platform Is Adopted.

The platform follows: "Recognizing that the principle of woman suffrage was definitely accepted by the people of these United States in 1916 when all political parties endorsed it in their national platform, we as women of Kentucky take this occasion to express to all parties our grateful acknowledgment of the gift of presidential suffrage by the action of the General Assembly of Kentucky in 1920;

"We accept the necessity of party organization to direct public action; and therefore under the responsibility of citizenship inherent in the right to help choose the President and Vice-President of these United States, we affiliate ourselves with the Democratic party with the purpose of uniting with others of that party in forwarding the candidacy of the best men for the offices without faction or prejudice; of maintaining the inviolability of the Constitution of these United States; and of standing for America for Americans."

— Lexington Herald.

No Factionalism.

(Owensboro Messenger.)

The matter that most vitally concerns the Democratic voters in Kentucky this year is the election of a full Democratic electoral ticket in Kentucky may depend the choice of a president for this country for the next four years. Upon the election of a Democratic senator in this state may depend the political complexion of the United States senate for two to six years. The loss of one or two congressmen in Kentucky might determine the political make-up of the next house of representatives. The loss of the state by 40,000 to the Democrats last fall need not dismay us if a reunited party goes into the battle this year.

The rank and file of Kentucky Democrats will have little patience with any factional fighting in the coming state convention over the election of state committees or expressions of presidential preference. The great and single thought that should be in the minds of all delegates is harmonious action and a determination to allow the San Francisco convention the widest latitude in its consideration of the best nomination to be made. Many important developments may come between the 4th of May when the Kentucky convention will meet and the 28th of June when the great gathering at San Francisco will take place. Kentucky Democrats will, after San Francisco, have a great fight to make and they should have no unnecessary handicaps.

"Now, if you don't believe me go to Memphis and see for yourself," continued Dr. Gibson. "This negro man is employed in the Illinois Central Railroad shop in that city. He has been offered $700. a week to exhibit this wonderful gift he has possessed since a child, on the stage, but has refused, saying that the good Lord endowed him with this remarkable gift and he would not commercialize it."

PASTOR

Saw Negro Breathing Flames

Power of Faith Subject of Sermon

Preached by the Rev. Mr. Gibson.

Inspired by the missions of James Moore Hickson, the Rev. Finley F. Gibson, pastor of the Walnut street Baptist Church, preached last night on faith from a passage in the Old Testament, in which he described the leprosy of Naon, the great biblical warrior of that period, and how Elijah healed him by the injunction that he submerge himself seven times in the River Jordan, when, he was told, his leprosy would disappear. In making a practical application of faith he described an incident of a recent visit to Memphis, Tenn. Dr. Gibson said, in substance:

"While in Memphis last week I was told that it contained the most wonderful negro man I have ever heard of; that this negro could blow his breath on my handkerchief and set it afire. I said it was impossible; that I could not and would not believe that such a thing could be done; that such an almost impossible freak of nature I could not believe until it had been demonstrated to me and others in my presence.

"The negro, who is a devout Christian, 60 years old, was brought before me with number of other ministers present. His sleeves were rolled up and he was made to wash his mouth thoroughly with ice water. I held my handkerchief before him and he blew his breath against it, and to my astonishment, it was set fire. Here is the handkerchief." He showed it with four burned holes in it to the congregation.

"Now, if you don't believe me go to Memphis and see for yourself," continued Dr. Gibson. "This negro man is employed in the Illinois Central Railroad shop in that city. He has been offered $700. a week to exhibit this wonderful gift he has possessed since a child, on the stage, but has refused, saying that the good Lord endowed him with this remarkable gift and he would not commercialize it."

Sea Otter's Fur Valuable.

A coat or cloak of genuine sea otter is worth more than its weight in gold. While the skins of the ordinary freshwater otter have no particular value in the fur market, the pelt of the true sea otter is today the most valuable of all furs. The sea otter was formerly found in considerable abundance off the coast of Alaska, but it is now nearly if not quite extinct.

Noticed It at Once.

I am the owner of two dogs, a black cocker spaniel and a white long-haired Scotch terrier. One day a little girl came in to play with them. We were out in the yard, both dogs sitting on the porch when I noticed that she would look intently at me, then at the dogs. She did that several times, then said, "Why, your dogs don't look one bit like you!"—Evelyn.

EXPENDITURES OF SALVATION ARMY SHOW $13,257,552

Commander Evangeline Booth
Makes Public Annual Home
Service Fund Accounting.

EXPANSION OF WORK IN ALL DEPARTMENTS NOTED

Popular Organization's Budget for 1920
Totals $10,000,000—Details of Figures for 1919 and 1920.

New York, April 12.—Expansion and advancement in every department of Salvation Army work as a result of the 1919 Home Service Fund are shown in a full accounting of that Fund just made public by Commander Evangeline Booth at the National Headquarters of the organization here. The financial statement, which is of January 31, 1920, shows total expenditures throughout the country up to and including that date of $13,257,552, with a remainder on hand for the four months to May 31, of $910,410.

Details of the statement disclose that the sum of $1,411,125 was expended up to January 31 for the maintenance of 183 corps and outposts in all parts of the United States. This item includes rentals of tents and their maintenance, salaries of 1,880 officers the expenses of work for children and young people, the cost of all local relief work of whatever nature, and such incidental expenditures as postage, printing, stationery and the like.

In the period covered by the report the sum of $1,088,429 was expended by thirty-four provincial and divisional headquarters for training farms and camps, comprehensive relief work of a special nature amongst the poor, the sick and the distressed. These headquarters are charged with the oversight and direction of all corps and similar activities in their jurisdiction as well as the extension of Salvation Army effort to unoccupied fields and localities. Hence, this item includes also salaries of executive officers, of clerical and other employees, necessary traveling expenses, postage, the cost of advertising, publicity and a portion of the expenditures incidental to the organization of the financial campaigns.

Details of Expenditures.
Other items detailed in the report include the sum of $621,159, representing administrative and other expenses borne by National Headquarters in New York and Territorial Headquarters in Chicago; $187,302 representing the cost of operating and maintaining 25 rescue homes and maternity hospitals, a general hospital and one for children, 3 children's homes and 11 slum settlements and nurseries; and $100,000 apportioned according to the 1919 budget for the pension fund for aged or disabled officers.

Most significant, as indicating the remarkable advancement made by the Salvationists during the past year as result of the 1919 Fund contributed by the country, are the lifting of mortgages to the amount of $1,881,143 and the outlay of $7,000,000 for new buildings and additions, making a total of $8,919,528.

Ultimate demands upon the Salvation Army's efforts have been so much greater than its income that it has labored under a tremendous indebtedness. Its officers have been reduced to part pay year after year, and the organization has been handicapped in its operations.

Not All Mortgages Liquidated.
Only a part of the mortgaged indebtedness was paid off last year, however; the increased demands upon the Army everywhere in the country being so great that increased and new facilities for hospitals, rescue homes and other Army institutions called for the outlay of more than $7,000,000. Army officers hope that the response to the 1920 Home Service Appeal will be such as to permit of the wiping off of much of the remaining mortgage indebtedness, provide for the maintenance of the organization's established activities and make urgently needed extensions and development possible.

The 1919 balance sheet shows the following:

	Expenditure For support of corps, etc., Danville	Reserve To Jan. 31	To May 31
Maintenance of provincial and divi- sional heads	11,441,185.45	$447,235.45
Maintenance of na- tional and terri- torial heads	1,658,429.62	297,132.93
Maintenance of in- stitutions for women and chil- dren	621,093.97	62,671.09
Mortgage and properties	187,302.75	102,297.09
Total indebtedness for eight months (12,357,552.91)	910,140.59
Reserve for long months (1,071)	910,140.59
Original amount con- tributed in 1919	14,167,892.60

The Army's 1920 budget, asking for $10,000,000, calls for $4,000,000 to carry on its evangelistic and relief work in 1,000 separate centers; $1,000,000 for relief work among the poor, sick and unfortunate, work for mothers and children, and other social work under provincial and divisional headquarters; $250,000 for the maintenance of national and territorial headquarters; $400,000 for rescue homes, nurseries, hospitals, slum posts and other institutions for women and children; $150,000 for the retired officers' pension fund, and $2,200,000 for the liquidation of mortgages and the acquiring of new properties made necessary by the Army's 1920 extension program.

COMMANDER OF THE SALVATION ARMY

Commander Evangeline Booth, head of the Salvation Army in the United States, will leave for Europe on important business immediately at the close of the Salvation Army's 1920 Home Service Appeal, May 10-20.

The Commander will not only inspect the American Section of the Salvation Army work now going on with the American troops at Coblenz, Germany, and other points along the Rhine, but will confer in London with her brother, General Bramwell Booth, world head of the Salvation Army.

The Commander intends to remain to London ten days. She will go not only to Germany, in the interests of her organization, but to Belgium, where there has been a vast increase recently in Salvation Army work. In addition the Commander will hold an important meeting in Paris.

The Salvation Army is the only relief organization with the American Forces in Germany on the east side of the Rhine. It has five large soldiers' clubs in the Rhine country.

ALL KENTUCKIANS
ARE MADE WELCOME

Booth Memorial Hospital at Covington is Operated By the Salvation Army.

Kentuckians from every part of the State will always find a hospitable welcome at the famous Booth Memorial Hospital, at Covington, whether they have money or not. Support of this hospital is one object of the Salvation Army's Home Service Campaign, May 10-20.

The Booth Memorial Hospital was the home of the late Amos Shinkle, the founder and promoter of the suspension bridge connecting Covington and Cincinnati. When the home was erected many years ago it was famous all over the United States as one of the finest in this section of the country.

Mr. Shinkle left the beautiful home to the Salvation Army upon his death, and since that time it has been used as a hospital. It is strictly non-denominational. Men and women from all churches and representing all creeds are on the advisory board and the various committees. They are among the most prominent citizens of Covington. Theirs is strictly a labor of love, and they receive no compensation.

The same care and attention is given to patients who have no money as to those who can afford to pay part or whole of the fees required. Not a single patient without money has ever been turned away from this hospital, although many patients who offer to pay are not received because of lack of room.

Thirty per cent of all the cases in Booth Memorial Hospital have been charity patients. This record is by far the best of any hospital in the United States.

The medical staff of the hospital is made up of the best-known physicians in this section. Dr. J. Risk Meek, a Pendleton county boy, is chief of staff.

In connection with the hospital a nurses' training school is maintained. Miss Catherine A. Webb is superintendent of nurses. She is an experienced nurse and has had post-graduate work in five of the largest hospitals in the country. Seven of the graduates of the school went into Red Cross work during the war, and two of them were overseas. They were Mina Dunlap, who recently passed away, and Leannah Sorrell, formerly of Pendleton county, Kentucky. Both of them rendered splendid service.

Great interest is being shown in Booth Memorial Hospital in all sections of Kentucky because patients are received from all parts of the state, charitable as well as full-pay and part-pay patients.

Salvation Army officers give 10 per cent of their meager earnings to charity. During the week of March 28th to April 5th, known to them as "Self- Denial Week," they cheerfully gave "what's left."

The Salvation Army has a commissioned officer staff of more than 18,000 working in 60 countries and speaking 48 different languages.

The Salvation Army knows no service too difficult, no task too great.

"Oh, Let's Don't".

People With Thin, Pale Blood Are Listless And Want To Do Little.

MORE RED BLOOD CELLS NEEDED.

Take Pepto-Mangan, Famous Tonic, And Say "Let's Go", Instead of "Let's Don't".

When normally healthy, ambitious people begin to lack energy and tire easily—when they are quickly discouraged and low in vitality, it usually means their blood has grown weak.

Such people are called anemic, or "rundown." Build up the blood and you build up the health and spirits. Pepto-Mangan is a pleasant-tasting red blood builder and it contains exactly the elements which poor, pale blood needs to become rich, red blood.

Red blood means rosy cheeks, bright eyes, a clear brain, a firm step. Pepto-Mangan has placed thousands of people who needed building up in the full-blooded, energetic, vigorous class. It changes the "let's don't" attitude to a "let's go" attitude. Recommended by physicians for thirty years and sold all over the world.

Pepto-Mangan is sold in both liquid and tablet form. Both contain the same medicinal ingredients.

Buy Pepto-Mangan at your druggist's. Be sure the name "Gude's" is on the package. Without "Gude's" it is not Pepto-Mangan.

THORNHILL WAGONS

Made In the Heart of the Hardwood Region

DURING the past ten years the automobile, the manne and lime spreader occupied the time of many wagon makers. But Thornhill stuck to the wagon and to the farmer trade. Over rough mountain roads, through swamps, at logging camps, these wagons did duty daily.

Thus the fame of the Thornhill spread, and the demand grew steadily greater.

Tough Highland Hickory

Their plant is located in the very shadow of mighty forests of mountain hickory. The ground is hard—the climate severe. The wood has to fight for life. So it grows sturdy and strong—close-grained and tough—well nigh unbreakable. It has nearly twice the strength of hickory that grows in softer ground, which is usually brittle-brash. The white oak, growing under similar conditions, develops a similar toughness.

The oak and hickory are dried outdoors under shelter and kept there from three to five years—so piled that the air can circulate freely. The sap dries in it.

W. J. ROMANS, LANCASTER, KENTUCKY.

Some say their location in the heart of the hardwood region is the reason why they can build such a wear-proof wagon. And this is partly true. For good, tough oak and hickory are things no man can make.

But much is due to their modern labor-saving plant. Materials start at one end of the plant and come out a finished wagon at the other. Each man does but a single task, and he does that task to perfection.

A Clan of Master Builders

But to the men are due many of the Thornhill long-wearing, light-running features. Years ago they attracted to their plant the masters of wagon building. They asked these men for improvements, and the men who made them received their just reward.

Together they worked out more improvements than had ever been made in the twenty years that went before.

Let us show you a Thornhill and demonstrate the value of Thornhill construction. (600-N)

S. A. ACCOUNTS FOR FUNDS COLLECTED IN LAST CAMPAIGN

Colonel William Evans Makes Public Financial Statement for "O K" Province.

More than a million and a half dollars will have been spent by the Salvation Army in the "O. K." Province during the twelve months ending May 31, according to the official statement just made by Provincial Officer Colonel William Evans.

Of this amount $1,296,750.00 had been spent on January 31 last and there remained a reserve of $222,034.00 to cover the amount required between them and the end of May, making the grand total $1,518,784.00.

The greatest demand made upon the funds available for this province, which includes Ohio, Western Pennsylvania, Kentucky, West Virginia and Tennessee, was in the liquidation of mortgages on the property of the Army, to which $100,755.18 was devoted, and in the purchase and erection of new buildings to accommodate the greatly increased work of the organization here. This cost $569,697.50.

The debt which presented such a handicap to the work of the Army in this, as well as in other provinces, was the natural result of long period of sacrifice, open-handed charity and insufficient support. For years it has been the custom throughout the country to send the needy to the Salvation Army where they always have received prompt and cheerful help; but it was too often overlooked that some return was absolutely essential if the institution was to maintain its feet.

The necessary support was formerly not forthcoming in the offerings cast into the tambourine passed in meetings and the Army has until now found it imperative to mortgage its property in order to secure money for the carrying on of the work. This old order changed for the better last year when the new plan of making a single annual Home Service Appeal to the whole country was adopted and when, for the first time in its history, the Army was enabled to liquidate any considerable amount of its debts and to pay the full salary of its officers, scarcely though that is.

Support of corps activities for the eight months ending with January took $135,046.00 while there remained a reserve of $116,300.00 to carry through May. This money covers the rental of buildings in places where the Army does not own its establishments, lighting, heating and maintenance of these places as well as those actually owned by the organization, covers the salaries paid the workers in this province and includes traveling expenses, stationery, telephones and printing.

Maintenance of provincial and divisional headquarters activities cost $376,600.00 while $166,733.00 still remains unexpended and in reserve to maintain the work for the four remaining months.

These provincial and divisional headquarters exist for the purpose of supervising the work of the corps and the extension and development of the Salvation Army's undertakings generally within their territory. This expenditure therefore represents the rentals and maintenance of buildings used for officers and headquarters, salaries and the expense of operating fresh air camps and relief work.

This province's share, $22,627, went to bearing the expenses of national headquarters, while the national pension fund which exists to provide for officers who have grown old in the service entailed the deduction of $80,000 more from the grand total of the provincial budget. The women's work for the Province took $39,973.

The 1919 balance sheet for the Province shows the following:

Expended to Reserve to January 31 May 31
For the support of Corps Activities	$135,046.38
Maintenance of Provincial and Divisional Headquarters	376,600.16
Maintenance of National Headquarters	22,627.80
Women's Social Pension Fund	39,973.00
Mortgages	50,000.00
Properties	100,755.18
	546,697.59

Following a careful preliminary survey of needs and requirements the 1920 budget for this province has been set at $3,000,000. This money will be raised in the May Appeal and spent here during the next 12 months for the welfare purposes definitely explained in the foregoing paragraphs.

The Salvation Army makes a public appeal upon the principle that money, a medium of exchange, commands the material things which constitutes relief for the worthy poor, the helpless and needy, the fallen and the stricken; upon the principle that the officers and soldiers of the Army have no desire to acquire or accumulate for their personal emolument any stores of money or chattels, but instead have dedicated their lives to the work of relieving others; upon the principles that while its members must live decently, and are therefore entitled to shelter and food, they seek no reward in this life beyond the respect and appreciation of their fellow men and women, and that they are especially fitted, in consequence, both in spirit and experience to handle money judiciously and with utmost wisdom.

Disciples' Leaders Tell Need Of Fund.

Conferences in All Parts of State
Held At Which Reasons For Asking Money For World
Movement Are Given
By Speakers.

The reasons for Kentucky Division World drive in Kentucky May 9 to 16 were presented the past week in conferences held in various parts of the State by some of the leading ministers and laymen in the Disciples' Brotherhood in the State. The conference held at Lexington had the advantage of an address by Dr. Royal J. Dye, for years a missionary of the Disciples in Africa who told of orphans and old men's homes which were compelled to turn away applicants for shelter and care because of their overcrowded condition and lack of funds for more buildings.

Dr. Dye told of the need of hospitals and churches abroad and said that if the $135,000,000 spent by General Pershing in his trip into Mexico after Villa, had been used to establish churches, schools and hospitals, it would have provided for a church, a school building and a hospital in every city in Mexico with a population of 10,000 or over and would have enabled them to be operated for the next ten years. He said the Disciples had not "lifted a finger to save Mexico from herself."

President R. H. Crossfield, of Transylvania College, told of the low endowment of the 26 colleges of the Christian Church and the desperate need for money if these colleges were to keep abreast of the times and up to modern standards. He declared they needed not only a baptism of faith, but a "baptism of the pocketbook," a consecration of money on the part of those able to devote it to the cause of the Master in the World Movement.

Other speakers were Mrs. Charles Allen Thomas, of Lexington, and Dr. Joseph W. Hagan, of Covington, director of the state campaign.

The Wrong Publicity Man.

The new Democratic Harmony Committee a few weeks ago chose Harry A. Sommers, editor of the Elizabethtown News, as publicity representative to handle the matter sent out to the state press during his campaign. In a recent editorial in his paper Mr. Sommers went out of his way to make an entirely uncalled for attack on President Wilson. Whatever one may think of the actions of the President it must be remembered that he is the recognized head of the Democratic party in the United States and that on the record of the Wilson administration the Democrats must go to the people in the coming election.

In his comment on the President of the United States, Mr. Sommers, with that superior wisdom that is often found in country newspaper offices, shows how the President "lost his head" in handling the matter of the resignation of Secretary of State Robert Lansing. The matter was good enough Republican "stuff" to be copied by that rabid partisan Republican paper, the Lexington Leader and from it was copied and used on the first page of nearly every Republican newspaper in the state, with comments showing that it was written "by one of the leading Democratic editors in the State, Harry A. Sommers, of Elizabethtown, and published in his paper, the Elizabethtown News."

The Interior Journal doesn't believe that Mr. Sommers represents anybody but himself in his attack on the President of the United States in this editorial. It believes that the Democratic harmony committee has put the wrong man in charge of its publicity and it believes that this mistake ought to be undone before it is too late to undo it and that someone more in sympathy with the Democratic administration and the matchless record of Woodrow Wilson as President, be placed in charge of the news matter emanating from that committee.

The Interior Journal does not believe that one Democratic editor in 100 in Kentucky endorses the sentiments expressed in Mr. Sommers' editorial.—Interior Journal.

Constipation
Causes
Serious Ills

If you are its victim, try strengthening your digestive and eliminative organs with Nature's Remedy -- it's better than laxatives.

NR Today—Keeps the Doctor Away

One of the world's greatest enemies says that more than 85% of all human life can be traced directly or indirectly to constipation. How many suffer from this?

Most of them continually dose themselves with so-called laxative pills, salmons, oil, purgatives and cathartics and force bowel motion. To do that is a mistake. It weakens the bowel and liver and makes constant dosing necessary.

Why don't you begin right today to overcome your constipation and get your system in such shape that constant struggling will be unnecessary? You can do it if you get the best of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) and take one each night for a week or so.

NR Tablets do much more than merely cause pleasant, easy bowel motion. This medicine acts upon the digestive as well as eliminative organs.

GREAT INTEREST IS SHOWN IN CAMPAIGN

Big Salvation Army Home Service Drive Comes May 10-20—Citizens Are Organizing.

Reports from all parts of the state show that great interest is being taken in Kentucky in the big Salvation Army Home Service Campaign, May 10-20. Citizens who are assisting the Salvation Army workers in the campaign are everywhere displaying the greatest enthusiasm, and it is predicted that the campaign will be a big success.

The Salvation Army is known by its works. For years the earnest self-sacrifice of its officers and corps members has been appreciated by all who were acquainted with the splendid work done. Corps are now maintained in Louisville, Hopkinsville, Covington, Frankfort, Lexington, Ashland and Middlesboro. With sufficient money corps can be maintained in Paducah, Henderson, Owensboro, Bowling Green, Newport, Danville, Corbin and Mayfield. It is hoped that enough money can be raised during the campaign to establish a state headquarters in Louisville, with a secretary in many counties of the state, so that the work may be pushed with renewed zeal and vigor.

SALVATION ARMY BUYS "Y" BUILDING

Hopkinsville Business Men Pledge Their Hearty Support to Further the Work.

The Salvation Army has bought the Y. M. C. A. building at Hopkinsville. Col. William Evans, of Pittsburgh, the chief provincial officer, and Brigadier General E. Bonham, divisional officer, of Cincinnati, recently visited Hopkinsville, where they met a number of prominent citizens and communed with the deat.

Seven of the leading business men of Hopkinsville were ready to get behind the movement and pledged their hearty support at the meeting. Others prominent in their offers of support were Dr. Leonard Donkin, pastor of the First Baptist Church, formerly of Louisville; Rev. A. R. Kasey, pastor of the First Methodist Church, and Rev. Everett S. Smith, pastor of the First Christian Church. Members of the Board of Directors of the Y. M. C. A. were also present.

The Y. M. C. A. building was erected nine years ago, but a debt has hung over it. A Hopkinsville bank held a mortgage and filed suit to foreclose and the Salvation Army bid in the property. The building is in the center of the city, is built of concrete blocks, and has three stories. On the first floor is a central assembly room, on the second floor will be the Salvation Army corps headquarters, and the third floor will be used for emergency cases. Many changes will be made in the building, and when completed it will be ideal as a community social welfare center.

Envoy Henry Vanner has been in charge of the Salvation Army work in Hopkinsville for the past five years.

GOVERNOR COOLIDGE ACCEPTS.

Governor Calvin Coolidge, of Massachusetts, has accepted the chairmanship for New England of the Salvation Army 1920 Home Service Appeal, according to advice received by Commander Evangeline Booth, head of the organization in this country. Announcement of Franklin K. Lane's acceptance as national chairman for the Salvation Appeal was made recently.

"The Salvation Army," said the Governor in accepting the chairmanship, "has never ceased to instill true Americanism in the minds and hearts of those people who, because of their circumstances and position in the world, this wonderful organization alone has been able to reach. The Salvation Army taught its great lesson of Americanism on the firing line of France; it is carrying on the same ideals during this trying period of reconstruction."

The pay of Salvation Army officers runs from $15.00 per week to less than $20 per week. Commander Evangeline Booth, who is in command of the Salvation Army throughout America, had an income of less than $1,000 for the past year, according to the tax man.

President Wilson says, "No one who has watched, even superficially, the work and progress of the Salvation Army, can fail to feel the deepest and most sincere interest in its success."

Sixty influenza patients were taken care of by the Salvation Army during the recent epidemic in Parkersburg. Nearly 170 were nursed through the great epidemic of 1918 in Charleston.

"The efforts of the Salvation Army are worthy of the highest appreciation," says Sir Robert Borden, prime minister of Canada.

Why Breathe Through the Nose?

Reasons for breathing through the nose instead of the mouth are: (1) to warm the air; (2) to moisten the air; (3) to remove the dust and dirt; (4) to produce more suction in the chest, which helps draw blood to the lungs as well as air, thus helping the heart and more easily drawing second wind.

INTERNAL PESTS INJURE POULTRY

Easier to Prevent Enemies of Farm Fowls Than to Get Rid of Any of Them.

GAPE WORM IS TROUBLESOME

Slow Suffocation Follows Where Young Birds Are Attacked by These Parasites—Tape Worms Also Cause of Suffering.

Gape worms, round worms, tape-worms and flukes are the principal internal enemies of farm poultry. It is much easier to prevent all of them than it is to get rid of any one of them.

Early summer and late spring are the times when gape worms give the most trouble. As soon as the frosts are well out of the ground and there is no more danger of freezing the gape worms become active. Just where and how they spend the winter is not known, but they make their appearance with singular regularity following a few warm or hot days.

Gape simply means the slow suffocation of the young birds that are taken by these parasites. When a number of these worms get into the windpipe and become swollen with blood breathing becomes difficult and even impossible. Gaping, the characteristic symptom of the gapes, is the natural result of this choking.

Other Symptoms.

There are other symptoms of course. Some of these are the shaking of the head, the contracting and the extension of the neck, the drooping of the wings and a peculiar staggering gait, doubtless caused by the choking and the exhaustion of the chicks.

Once in a great while gaping will be caused by a touch of bronchitis, but as a rule it is associated only with the attacks of the tiny reddish worms that fasten themselves in the chicks' trachea. They not only choke the chicks, but they cause an irritation that leads to inflammation of the lining of the air passages.

Weak chicks, attacked by gape worms, will die nine times out of ten, as it is very hard to relieve them. The strong chicks may have vitality enough to overcome the trouble, but they will lose in growth.

The worms are sometimes extracted from the upper throat by means of a looped horse hair. This is a tedious operation and hardly worth while when there are many chicks to be looked after. The best plan is to isolate the sufferers and move the remainder away from the ground where they have been feeding. Forcing the chicks to breathe fine dust, fine, dry air-sifted lime, will force the worms to loosen their hold on the air passages. As a rule, though, the chicks are hardly strong enough to stand such measures.

Other Harmful Worms.

In older birds the tapeworms and round worms cause some losses. The round worm is a cylindrical, smooth parasite, tapering at both the front and the rear, but the front is more pointed than the rear. They are intestinal parasites, bloodsuckers and devourers of the nourishment needed by the growing bird or the laying hen. When very numerous they cause a diarrhea or in some instances a stoppage of the intestines.

The remedy is two grains of antinon for each bird, dissolved in the drinking water or mixed in and fed with a mash. The round worm is white in coloring and may vary from one-third of an inch to five inches in length.

Now and again serious outbreaks of the tapeworm in poultry are reported from various parts of the country. The chief remedies used for tapeworm in fowls are extract of the male fern, turpentine, pumpkin seeds, the green bean and Epsom salts.

DISPOSE OF EARLY MOLTERS

Easiest and Surest Way of Getting Rid of Poor Hens—Seldom Prove Winter Layers.

Perhaps the easiest and surest way of cutting out the poor hens is to discard the early molters. Contrary to popular opinion, the hens that molt early are seldom good fall and winter layers.

The Roadster, Too, Has All the Noted Essex Qualities

Speed—Power—Endurance—Economy—Utility.
It is an Ideal Car for Business as Well as Pleasure

The wide business uses for which the Essex Roadster is adapted are instantly apparent.

Its utilities are many. But note no evidence of them is revealed when the Roadster is used as a pleasure car. Every line is smart, trim and graceful. It takes but a moment to make the change.

A World Endurance Record Proves Essex Dependability

A large class of its buyers are business men. They choose it for utility and dependable transportation. It becomes, in fact, a part of their business system. It must be on the job, keep all engagements on time, and be as responsible as an engineer's watch.

These same qualities, with its rare good looks, make the Roadster unsurpassed as a smart car for pleasure.

Economy, durability and train-like regularity are the standards set by Essex. These things have been shown in the hands of more than 25,000 owners.

It was more dramatically proved on the Cincinnati speedway, when an Essex stock chassis set the world's long distance endurance record of 3,037 miles in 50 hours. The same car, in three separate tests, traveled 5,870 miles at an average speed above a mile a minute. Another stock Essex set the world's 24-hour road mark of 1,061 miles over snow-covered Iowa roads.

It is specially suited for salesmen, inspectors and others who must cover wide territory, quickly and frequently. Though not large, the Essex is commodious. There is plenty of room for passengers, and special arrangements for carrying sample cases, unseen, and even a trunk if desired.

Come see the Essex Roadster. Ride in it. Try its paces. Whether you want it for business or pleasure, you will appreciate why Essex in its first year set a new world's sales record.
